We know that Blondie's combat record is considered to be the finest in the land. Whole regiments have succumbed to her irresistible fire and surrendered in their thousands.

You might think that Blondie makes the perfect officer. That's what we thought until we visited the Depot of the famous Dare-devils.

ROMA SCOTT is the name. She is 22 years of age, with a 40-24-36 figure. Making headway with the film companies, Roma tells us that like most girls she hopes to be a star. Having studied dramatic acting for several years and with her looks and her ability she should go far.

Whatever the occasion on or off parade, Blondie's girls always manage to be improperly dressed. Without waiting for an order to change, the girls are constantly seeking cooler and more comfortable attire much to the discomfiture of, the colonel.

Regular troops of the establishment now consider that being confined to barracks is the highest award that the army can bestow. For who wants to leave camp now that Blondie's girls have arrived?

The return of the Dawn Patrol. At the time of going to Press, Dawn was still missing, presumed due to enemy action.

It isn't often that one finds a perfect figure - a pleasing personality and a pretty face together.
Here, we think you will agree, we have found the ideal combination.

She likes reading and collecting classical records and so far has been too busy to think of marriage but we are certain that "Mr. Right" will be along soon. We wish her good-luck in all her endeavours.
